Oxygen...Your health depends on it!

If you have body weakness, fatigue, circulation problems, poor digestion, muscle aches and pains, depression, or memory loss it could be caused by a lack of oxygen.

If your immune system is compromised by a lack of oxygen, your body is more susceptible to bacterial, viral, and parasitic infections, colds, and flu.

Oxygen deprivation can lead to life threatening diseases, such as cancer.

Most infections or diseases, including cancer, do not live well in an oxygen rich environment.

If your body is oxygen deficient, vital nutrients from food and nutritional supplements cannot be metabolized effectively and can impair the oxidation and elimination of toxins in your body.
